

PACIFIC NORTHWEST

Although Oregon and Washington border each other separated only by the Columbia River, these two wine producing regions are worlds apart. Washington produces rich, full-bodied Merlot and Cabernet, while Oregon is known for it's elegant Pinot Noir and Pinot Gris. The climate of Washington is a hot, semi-desert plateau, receiving 6 to 8 inches of rainfall per year. The cool, lush climate of Willamette Valley, Oregon averages 45 inches of rain. Both regions produce world-class wines, and we have selected a few that we feel represent the best of these two states.

It's wine madness during the month of March, with two great tastings here at TWM and the Cincinnati International Wine Festival on March 12th & 13th (buy your tickets at our store and save $5.00!) We always have a selection of these featured wines at our daily tasting bar so you can TASTE BEFORE YOU BUY! Cheers!
